The Living Income Community of Practice is an alliance of organisations who want to see thriving, economically stable, rural communities linked to global agricultural supply chains. The goal of the community is to foster collaboration and support organisations in their journey towards improving farmer incomes, and enabling farmers and their families to achieve a decent standard of living.

The community is open to any entity (companies, sustainability standards, civil society, platforms, governments, researchers and producer groups) interested and willing to explore the topic of existing and living incomes as well as strategies for closing income gaps.
